NDTA Honors AirNet for Transportation Industry Excellence

COLUMBUS, Ohio – March 11, 2010 – AirNet Systems, Inc. (“AirNet”) has been recognized by NDTA (National Defense Transportation Association) for industry excellence as the recipient of the 2009 Quality Award.

Awarded annually, the Quality Award is presented to Transportation Service Providers that serve the Defense Transportation System and the Department of Defense with distinction. Selection criteria are based on excellence in support, service, and teamwork.

“We are truly honored to be recognized as a Quality Award recipient for delivering extraordinary performance and customer service,” George Gonzalez, CEO of AirNet, commented. “This award strengthens our conviction that the standard of excellence in time-critical transportation is simply about exceeding customers’ expectations – whether it’s providing superior on-time performance or providing an exceptional level of personal service. This simple approach is the essence of what AirNet is. It’s truly part of our culture and the reason for our success.”
